Security Answer:

Enter the text shown below:

Once the Create User window is displayed, please enter your personal and business information as accurately as possible.

Be aware that the User Name and Email fields must be unique. If they are not unique, you will get a warning message and must key in a different value.

If the User Name is not unique, the window will display:
Please enter a different user name.

If the Email is not unique, the window will display:
The e-mail address that you entered is already in use. Please enter a different e-mail address.

This may also mean that you already have an account and may only need to reset the password, if forgotten.

If the text in the CAPTCHA image (above the Create User button) cannot be read, click the Home link, then click the Register button again until you can read the text.
